COOL WATER IN THE HOT SUN

NO MORE SUNBURN! APPELL'S South African WATER BAG

Keeps water cool 48 hours or longer, in sun or shade; great boon to prospectors, surveyors, sportsmen, stockmen, farmers, teamsters, anyone exposed to dry or warm weather. Used by U. S. Gov't. Strong, light, easy to carry. Guaranteed.

This Letter Typifies the Attitude of All Users

Gentlemen: While in Nevada recently I had occasion to drink out of one of your South African Water Bags. Water from the bag certainly tasted good on the desert. We used one of your 2 1/2 gallon bags and it was not only cool, but, even though the temperature was near 100° in the shade, and in the morning I found the water sparkling and as cold as ice water. It certainly is a boon to those living in the arid regions.

Yours Sincerely, W. E. WIDER

A BOY WAS TOO FRESH.

Miss Louise Gunther, who returned recently from Chicago, where she was appearing in vaudeville, turned a bottle of red ink over while writing at her home at One Hundred and Twenty-first Street and Amsterdam Avenue and the first two fingers on her left hand were discolored. Miss Gunther applied soap and water immediately, and although she scrubbed industriously was unable to remove the ink entirely. She did fade it, though, until her fingers were brown instead of red.

The same afternoon she went to a delicatessen store near her home to get some material for her evening meal. A boy about 16 years old waited on her. When he had wrapped up her bundles he leaned over the counter and assuming a confidential air, said:

"I'll tell you how to get that off your fingers if you want me too. 'I wish you would,' said the actress.

"Rub the fingers with gasoline."

"Will that remove it?"

"It took it off of my fingers," said the boy. "Try it and I'll bet nobody won't know you ever smoked."

"I ever what?" she almost screamed.

"Why, smoked," said the boy.

Miss Gunther hadn't said for her purchases. "Here," she said, "you just take these back. I'll trade somewhere else. I never smoked in my life."—New York Telegraph.
